Trenton, N.J.—The New Jersey Board of Public Utilities (NJBPU) announced Taryn Boland as its new Deputy Chief of Staff. Ms. Boland brings over 20 years of experience in public service and the non-profit sector to the agency. In her new role, Ms. Boland will report to Chief of Staff Christine Sadovy and work closely with Board President Joseph L. Fiordaliso to carry out NJBPU’s policy initiatives. She will also liaise with advocacy and interest groups to meet the needs of New Jersey’s public utility customers.

“We are excited to welcome Ms. Boland to our team and look forward to seeing her skills and experience in action in support of the NJBPU mission,” said NJBPU President Joseph L. Fiordaliso. “The scope of our work touches the lives of every New Jerseyan, and it takes the hard work of dedicated individuals to ensure we live up to that responsibility. Ms. Boland will be an asset to our team as we continue working toward Governor Murphy’s goal of 100 percent clean energy by 2050 and a stronger and fairer New Jersey for all.”

In her new role, Ms. Boland will be responsible for briefing the Board President on current issues related to the state’s public utilities as well as advising on any public policy impacts or considerations.
